Mbombela municipal manager engages Business at KLCBT breakfast

During another well-attended KLCBT breakfast, hosted at Emnotweni last Friday, the acting Municipal Manager of City of Mbombela, Mr Neil Diamond, gave an impressive presentation to business leaders of Mbombela.

Diamond opened with a quote from Ji Xin Pin, President of the Peoples Republic of China, when he was asked how come he always gives such good answers, he said: "It is all the years I spent in local government responding to local business people. They asked good questions and that helped me to give good answers."

He elaborated on the City's Financial Recovery Plan, which has three pillars: Budget Restructuring, Revenue Enhancement and Efficiency & Sustainability. He highlighted sections of Mbombela's Vision 2030, and concluded with what he called, "light at the end of the tunnel". This held a strong and welcome promise which is befitting of the new Mbombela brand. The undertaking is to Work with business, meet the expectations of stakeholders, work without fear or favour, have officials that have integrity and transparency, deliver world class services, and become the city of excellence...

Place your banner advert on all outgoing e-mails of the KLCBT!!!

The KLCBT has opened an opportunity for members to become our corporate partner for a month. This fantastic opportunity allows one company to have a banner below our e-mail signatures for the duration of one month. All e-mails sent by the Chamber staff will have this banner, stating "proud KLCBT partner" with your logo and contact details.

This is not all. You will also be invited to our monthly Chamber Management Meeting, where you can provide a unique perspective to our discussions and also hear first hand what the KLCBT is doing and what the business world is up against.

All of this is available to your company for only R6000 excluding VAT for one month, if you book before 31 March 2018. The rate will increase to R7000 after that. Size of banner: 10cm wide by 2,5cm high (sample on KLCBT website). NB: Companies cannot book for consecutive months.

(Contact Linda / Zeldia by return e-mail to book your spot.)

Shocking statistics on theft out of vehicles in Nelspruit

During the past week alone, 26 vehicles were broken into in the Nelspruit precinct. Of those, an alarming 24 were due to owner's negligence. This is where the owners left valuable items in the car. Cell phones, hand bags, a huge amount of money, shopping bags, laptop.

NOW COMES THE SHOCKING PART...

Very few of these items were visible. Some were hidden under car seats, or covered by a piece of clothing, etc. This shows you that burglars are really not stupid. They know when something is stowed in the vehicle.

The police asked us to make another appeal to please stop leaving valuable items in vehicles, or even things that may look like it has value—like a closed box or shopping bag.

Are you ready for the Easter Weekend?
