

Visit www.klcbt.co.za regularly for the latest business news, updates information and EVENTS. The latest posts include:

Attend the Land Expropriation Public Hearing

The Constitutional Review Committee on the proposed amendment of Section 25 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, is currently conducting public hearings throughout South Africa to get input from the citizens on:

1. Should the constitution be changed or not;
2. If yes, to take suggestions from the public on how to change it.

On Monday, 2nd July 2018, it will be Ehlanzeni's turn. The hearing will take place from 11h00 to 16h00 (possibly longer) at AG Communio Hall in Mbombela.

KLCBT has already made written input with information assembled from members and board members. We have requested to make a verbal submission at the hearing, but it seems that anybody can address the committee on the day, regardless of prior submission. We would like to appeal to our members to attend this hearing in numbers and participate in this very important process, which could change the economic landscape of our country forever. Please do not ignore the process, because the outcome will certainly affect all of us.

(More information is available on www.parliament.gov.za)

Land expropriation without compensation

The W&R Seta Stakeholder Consultation for 2018/19 is tomorrow

The Wholesale & Retail Seta invites all stakeholders to influence the skills development priorities for the Wholesale and Retail Sector at the Sector Skills Plan (SPP) Consultation Sessions.

We apologise for the late invitation, but it will be held tomorrow, the 29th June 2018 at the Mercure Hotel in Nelspruit. The event will start at 09h00 until 15h00.

(Should you wish to attend, please RSVP to Smatema@wrseta.org.za)

By-Laws to regulate Informal Traders—City of Mbombela

The Nelspruit City Improvement District has addressed the issue of regulating by-laws on informal traders. After long negotiations with City of Mbombela Local Municipality, the process has finally started. CoM is currently busy with the registration process of these traders. The regulating strategy will include the following points:

Designated sites will be clearly marked;

Every trader will receive a high quality card with the permit holder details connected to the specific site;

All by-laws pertaining to informal traders must be adhered to.

The process will benefit businesses in the area with more control of what is happening on our streets and improve business security for the informal sector. It will also be easier to follow up on complaints and issues that may arise.

(For more information, contact Vincent Mabusa at CoM, tel 013 759 9056)

Do not become part of the “bad” safety statistics during this holiday

The Kruger Lowveld is undeniably the premier inland Winter destination in SA and together with the most popular festival in SA, Innibos, also happening at the moment, we have a very high number of visitors arriving in our area. Shopping centres are busier and people are generally distracted because they are not from here. All of these factors present a perfect environment for criminals to also have a peak season of their own.

Many shopping centres have put posters up warning visitors to be alert to their surroundings. We had reports of people not being able to lock cars because of remote jamming, muggings, and theft out of vehicles.

The other factor is even more serious—Please do not drink and drive. We do have metered taxis available or we can assist to arrange private transfers for you and your friends to return home safely after indulging in the festivities. We want to see all our visitors back here again next year!